DISTRIBUTION
& CO.

Yona Atelier Distribution and Co. is a boutique film distribution company devoted to the discovery, curation, and elevation of bold independent cinema. Founded on the belief that powerful storytelling deserves intentional placement and thoughtful amplification, the company exists to bridge the gap between visionary filmmakers and audiences seeking work that resonates on a deeper level.

At Yona Atelier, film is approached as both art and cultural dialogue. Each project is selected with care, guided by a commitment to originality, perspective, and emotional truth. The company focuses on voices that are often underrepresented or unconventional, creating space for narratives that challenge expectation, provoke conversation, and leave a lasting imprint.

The distribution process is treated as an extension of the creative journey rather than its conclusion. Every film is supported through a tailored strategy that reflects its identity, audience, and potential reach. From festival positioning and digital release to brand partnerships and audience engagement, Yona Atelier ensures that each story is not only seen, but experienced in a way that preserves its integrity and amplifies its impact.

With a sensibility rooted in both artistry and strategy, Yona Atelier Distribution and Co. operates at the intersection of cinema, culture, and innovation. The company embraces a forward thinking approach to distribution, recognizing the evolving ways audiences discover and connect with film while maintaining a deep respect for the craft itself.

Yona Atelier stands as a home for filmmakers who refuse to conform, for stories that demand attention, and for cinema that lingers long after the screen fades to black.
